

SQUIBS FROM THE WATER FRONT

LARGE BODIES OF BLUEBACKS CAUGHT BY THE SEINERS YESTERDAY.

Oodles of bluebacks were caught yesterday and today when both large and small mackerel seiners took a brief respite from chasing the mackerel, and scooped up the choice bait fish off Ipswich and neighboring waters and brought them into port. The total catch reported here since yesterday was 720 barrels, or 144,000 pounds, which incidentally, means considerable work for those wharves.

The Gorton-Pew Fisheries took them all, having them distributed at three main branches, with the Gorton branch taking 220 barrels unloaded under the direction of Dick Carroll, czar of the wharf; 310 barrels at the Cold Storage branch; and 120 barrels to the Pew branch.

Nova Scotia Notes

Salt Cargo.

A salt famine in Halifax that existed since the beginning of the month ended Tuesday with the arrival of the Norwegian steamer Bill from Cadiz, pain. In her holds were 1,600 tons of salt consigned to Halifax importers.

There was rejoicing among shore fishermen with the arrival of the steamer. For two weeks some of them had been forced to suspend fishing operations because they were unable to cure their catches.

Shortly after arrival the Bill was nosed in a berth at A. and M. Smith's wharf, where hatch covers were quickly taken off. By noon a large gang of men were employed in removing the cargo.

REMOVES INJURED MAN FROM TRAWLER

The Coast Guard patrol boat Calypso hurried to the assistance of a member of the crew of the Boston trawler Whitecap, 160 miles east southeast of Boston Lightship, yesterday afternoon to take the man, both of whose legs are broken, to the hospital at Vineyard Haven. It was expected that the Calypso, 20 miles northeast of the Whitecap when the message was received, would reach Vineyard Haven early today with the injured man.

Coast Guard headquarters received a message from the Whitecap yesterday afternoon, saying the injured man was in a very serious condition and asking that a plane be sent, if possible. The plane was not available.
